RESILIENCE FOLLOWED BY Q&A

ABOUT THE EVENT

Resilience is an award-winning documentary that chronicles the birth of a new generation of pediatricians, therapists, and educators who are using cutting-edge science to break cycles of violence, addiction, and trauma.

"The child may not be born with a silver spoon, but they can be born with a silver lining."

The original research findings revealed the importance of a generation. RESILIENCE is a documentary that delves into the science of Adverse Childhood Experiences (ACES) and the birth of a new generation to treat and prevent Toxic Stress.

After the viewing, a Q&A will be held with professionals.

"If I had to boil it down for one thing for people to learn from this science, it's to totally put to bed forever this sense that children who are born under disadvantaged circumstances are doomed to poor life outcomes. The science is saying that's just not true."

- Dr. Jack Shonkoff, Pediatrician, Director, Center on the Developing child, Harvard University
